Comments:

Another spanking hot summer's day in March! This is an event that I am expecting sleet and snow but again the sun shines after a misty start. Another excellent field tackled this tough NYM course. At the second check point it was fairly obvious that times were going to be quick with Cameron Taylor heading Paul Butler then a fairly large group of about eight in a line. The women's race was similar with Kay Neesam clearly leading from Kelly Stallwood, Julia Jackson and Hester Cox. As the race progressed Cameron and Kay were able to pull further away from the field. In the men's only Paul was ever in contention with Cameron getting relatively stronger as the race progressed. Kay was pursued by Julia and Hester as Kelly struggled to maintain her pace. At the finish both Cameron and Kay were to break the old records by over three minutes. In the team event Paul had some revenge leading Loftus and Whitby to a win ahead of Esk Valley. In the women's event it was good packing by Pickering that gave them the win.

As I count there are now four runners who have completed all the races in the series with two to go. Cameron has clearly won the men's championship whilst Kay has won the women's. In the overall team competition Esk Valley have a healthy lead over North York Moors with Esk Valley'B' team in third. In the women's Pickering are so far ahead of the other teams they only need two points from the last two fixtures and Esk Valley in second would have to win both! Don't forget you may need to carry water if The Moors race is going to be hot see you there Dave..... 01642591455
