Comments:

In all the years that this race has been run I can't remember bad weather. With the 48 Hour forecast the guidance was heavy showers but not so a gentle pleasant evenings running. At the start there was a big group up at Captain Cook's Monument. There was then a break as several runners pushed it at the front with Dez Fielden just behind Cameron Taylor with Neil Stabbs & Giles Hawking ahead of Joe Blackett.

In the women's race Shelli Gordon, Ashleigh Thorpe, Julia Jackson and Sue Haslam were the leading contenders. Both races were very settled through Percy Rigg and Hanging Stone. It was here that things started to change. There were three different choices of route onto Roseberry Common and the races then grouped up. On the climb to Roseberry Joe Blackett suddenly came to life and moved past the four in front of him none of the leading group could stay with him on the climbs

Shelli was now also two minutes ahead in the women's with a very close contest behind. Shelli went on to win with the sprightly Sue Haslam moving up to second.

In the men's Joe's margin of victory was 30seconds ahead of Neil Stabbs and Dez Fielden. New Marske were winners of the female team just ahead of Thirsk & Sowerby whilst North York Moors won the men's ahead of Esk Valley and Knavesmire.
