Comments:

One of those days when it has rained all night and continued to be showery. We managed to be given a pleasant window in the weather. A bit disappointing with the turn out but a race is a race and you have to be in it to win it! Lewis Rodgers waited in behind Paul Butler at the start and soon passed him once they were on to the open moor. Paul continued to fight all the way but Lewis is in excellent form. Dan Middlemas was the only other male finishing in third who had a sniff of a chance 'early doors.' With their first four counters in the top ten Loftus and Whitby were clear winners of the men's team race from Esk Valley Fell Club.

In the female event it was another brilliant run from Nicola Kent that saw her leading early on with her club colleagues Angharad Owen and Julia Jackson chasing hard. Nicola however soon opened up the gap. She was a clear winner from Angharad. With Julia third Loftus and Whitby had the perfect score in the Team event.

A very pleasant event where we need a race organiser for next year. Best wishes Dave.

Don't forget the next event is a fund raiser for Cleveland Mountain Rescue so get out and support your emergency service!
