Comments:

It was one of those days which started out quite cold but warmed through to a bit of sunshine near the end. The ground was slippery And very few of the front runners managed to escape a minor fall. The men's race soon developed into a little group at the front of Cameron Taylor, Gary Jones, the returning Paul Butler, Charlie Stead, Richard Bewell and the emerging Charlie Mason. This group pushed ahead and eventually Cameron and Gary broke away. Cameron's descending was excellent in the last section but Gary tried to come back at him only to feel another Cameron surge to hold him off. In the women's event It was Caroline Lambert who in her first race showed that she has talent, strength and determination as she held off very strong challenges from Nicola Kent and Kay Neesam with Angharad Owen also putting in a strong performance. In the team races it was extremely difficult to seperate the teams. In the men's Esk Valley and Northumberland FR had the same points with Esk just pinching it on 'the last counter rule.'

In the women's complications of the 'phantom runner in last' to make a team of two into three meant that presentation would have been late to work this out but deservedly Wetherby Women were the winners from Loftus & Whitby and the current league leaders Pickering. Of course I had to outdo all of you in the injury dept by falling and breaking two ribs but I expect I'll be at Commondale for the next event.
